SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, HOME-COMING DAY

Many Duke alumni and alumnae will be on the campus next Saturday, October 3, which is to be observed as 1931 Home-Coming Day. Hundreds of former students are expected to be here at that time for the Duke-V. M. I. game and for other occasions of the day. The University Union will be headquarters during the day and the Alumni Office makes the earnest request that members of the faculty who are Duke alumni and other faculty members as well make it a point to be in the Union as much as possible to aid in greeting the many Duke men and women who are expected to be here.

DR. HANES HERE DURING DR. AMOSS' ABSENCE

Dr. and Mrs. Frederic M. Hanes of Winston-Salem have arrived in Durham and are living in the Amoss home in Hope Valley. Dr. Hanes, who has been associated with the Medical School since it was established, has come here as acting professor of medicine and as head of the medical service in the Duke Hospital during the absence of Dr. Harold L. Amoss, who is now visiting professor of medicine in the Peiping Union Medical School in China. Dr. Amoss will return about February 1.

BANKING SERVICE GREATLY APPRECIATED

The banking service provided on the basement floor of the University Union and on the Woman's College campus by the Citizens National Bank is greatly appreciated by members of the University community on both campuses. The offices are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anders, the hours being from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Members of the faculty and student body are cordially invited to make use of the facilities provided.

TUTORING CLASS IN GERMAN

Graduate and special students interested in organizing a tutoring class in German will please meet with Dr. C. A. Krummel in Page, 205, Monday, at 7:30 p.m.

OUTGOING TELEGRAMS

Those members of the University community who desire to send telegrams either by Western Union or Postal may secure prompt service by sending them to Information Desk in the University Union. Messages are sent from this point at frequent intervals during the day.

FIRST "Y" OPEN HOUSE

The first "Y" open house of the 1931-32 academic year will be held in the University Union, Sunday afternoon, September 27, at 5 o'clock, following vesper services in York Chapel.

STANLEY HIGH COMING

Stanley High, author of "The Revolt of Youth," "A Waking World," and other widely read books, will speak at Duke University's regular Vespers at 4 o'clock Sunday, Oct. 25. Formerly editor of The Christian Herald, Mr. High is now chairman of a committee working to establish a national Christian daily. He is known as a forceful speaker and an exceptionally well-informed student of international social trends. Mr. High is one of a series of speakers to come to the University during the year. Once each month a speaker from without the University will be brought here to lead the vespers. The entire community is invited to take this opportunity to hear Mr. High, and other speakers who will be announced later.

ACCOUNTANTS TO MEET

The North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants will hold its twelfth annual meeting on the campus for three days beginning Thursday. Approximately seventy-five persons are expected to attend. The public is invited to the open meetings.

STUDENT JOURNALISTS

Beginning Thursday a three-day session of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will be held on the campus with editors, business managers, and members of the staffs of Duke publications acting as hosts. More than 125 visiting college journalists from every higher educational institution in the state will attend. The association has invited a number of publishers and newspaper editors to address them.

REPORT DUE OCTOBER 24

The first scholastic report of the fall semester on freshmen and advanced freshmen will be due at the freshman office on October 24.

The instructors of advanced courses may find students with freshman rating in their courses; reports should be made on such students at this time.

STANLEY HIGH TO SPEAK

Stanley High, widely known editor and religious leader of New York, who for a number of years was editor of the Christian Herald, will be the speaker at the University Vespers on Sunday, October 25, at 4 o'clock. He is a most forceful speaker and will doubtless be heard by a large number of members of the University community and citizens of Durham.

JEAN ESCARRA TO SPEAK

Notable among the events on the University calendar for next week are the two lectures on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings by Jean Escarra, of the faculty of law of the University of Paris, who has been appointed Julius Rosenthal Foundation Lecturer in Northwestern University for 1931. He is widely known as a lawyer, speaker and author. He has written many authoritative works dealing particularly with English, Continental and Chinese law.

Prof. Escarra is director of the International Library of Private and Criminal Law, and is a member of many learned legal societies. His works have attracted wide attention and his coming to Duke is an event of unusual importance.

Prof. Escarra will speak on "Past and Future of Comparative Law" the first evening, and "The Law of Unfair Competition in Trade" the following evening. The lectures will be held in the Courtroom, Law Building, University campus.

PHI BETA KAPPA MEETING

The Phi Beta Kappa fall business meeting will be held in Room 106, School of Religion Building, on Wednesday, October 28, at 3 p.m. Undergraduate elections will be made at this time; also a report of convention delegates heard. Members of Phi Beta Kappa coming to Duke this year from other institutions are invited to become associate members.

"ARMS AND THE MAN"

The Duke Players present their first play of the year, "Arms and the Man," by George Bernard Shaw, on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock, at the Page Auditorium, University campus.

MEETING ON DISARMAMENT

Many members of the University community will doubtless be interested in the meeting to be held in the auditorium of Central High School, Wednesday evening, October 28 at 8 o'clock, in connection with a nation-wide disarmament campaign. Similar meetings are being held in many communities throughout the United States. At the meeting here Professor Harlan, of the University of Richmond, and Professor Charles A. Ellwood, of Duke University, will speak. M. Eugene Newsom, prominent Durham business man and former president of Rotary International, will preside.

DUKE-WAKE FOREST FRESHMAN GAME

The Duke-Wake Forest Freshman football game, which was to have been played here on next Friday, October 30, has been transferred to Wake Forest.

NEWCOMERS CLUB

The Newcomers Club is giving a Hallowe'en Party at Forest Hills Clubhouse on Friday evening at 8 o'clock for the new members of the University community who have recently come to Duke.

LECTURE ON ANIMAL PARASITES

On Wednesday afternoon and night Dr. R. W. Hegner, Professor of Protozoölogy in Johns Hopkins University, School of Hygiene, will give two lectures on human parasites. Dr. Hegner has done scientific work in Central America, Europe, the Philippines, and other places in the Orient. He has served as Visiting Professor in the University of London and the University of the Philippines. He is an interesting speaker with wide experience. In the afternoon he speaks under the auspices of the Crowell Scientific Society and at night for the Medical School. Both lectures are open to the public and will be of general interest.

CONVENTION AND FLOWER SHOW

Many of those in the University community will doubtless be interested in the convention and flower show on November 4 and 5 in Durham, under the auspices of the North Carolina Florists Association. The flower show will be held at the Washington Duke Hotel, beginning at noon of Wednesday, November 4. There will be no admission charge. On Wednesday afternoon members of the association will visit Duke University and hold a session on the campus, followed by a brief social period.

MEETING OF FACULTY CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Faculty Club Tuesday evening, November 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time there will be the initiation of new members. An interesting program is promised and a large attendance of the members of the Faculty Club is assured.

THE GRADUATE CLUB MEETING

This month's meeting promises to be the most interesting one of the year because of the program. Election of new officers for the current year will take place. Dr. E. W. Nelson will speak. There will be music and refreshments. The meeting will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in Room 205, University Union.

MRS. N. I. WHITE WILL SPEAK

Mrs. N. I. White will speak on Dorothy Parker's new book of verse, "Death and Taxes," Monday evening at 6:45 in the Booklover's Room, Woman's College Library. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance at this meeting, as Mrs. White is a most interesting and entertaining speaker.

PROFESSOR THOMPSON TO SPEAK

On Sunday, November 8, Prof. W. Taliaferro Thompson, of Richmond, Va., will speak in the morning at Dean Herring's Sunday School class, and in the afternoon at the regular Sunday vespers in York Chapel. He will also speak in Page Auditorium Monday morning.

Professor Thompson is Professor of Religious Education in Union Theological Seminary, and is an outstanding teacher and speaker who never fails to make a most profound impression on any audience. He is sure to be heard with great interest by the University community and the public generally.

AUTUMN EXHIBITION OF ART

The autumn exhibition of the Art Association of Duke University will be held in the Woman's College Library, beginning Tuesday evening, November 10. The evening exhibition will only be open to the members of the Art Association and their friends; thereafter, it will be open to the public for several days.

The paintings shown in this exhibition will be illustrative of negro plantation types. They are by Mrs. Marshall Williams of Faison, N. C., who is widely known in North Carolina and other southern states as an artist and civic leader. The exhibition is sure to be of interest, not only to the University community but to the city and state generally.

ADDRESS ON EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

On Tuesday evening, November 10, at 7:30, there will be a meeting in Room 201, Gray building, under the auspices of the Polity Club, when an address will be delivered by C. Douglas Booth, of London, England. His subject will be "The Austro-German Rapprochement as a Stabilizing Factor in Middle Europe." The public is invited.

Mr. Booth is a recognized authority on international affairs, having traveled widely in connection with that interest over the civilized world. The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is bringing him to the University of North Carolina for a lecture on Tuesday, and he will come here in the evening from Chapel Hill.

TUESDAY EVENING RECITAL

On Tuesday evening, November 10, at 8:15, another in the series of Tuesday Evening Recitals under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will be given, with Mrs. Gwendolyn Mitchell Farrell, lyric soprano, as the soloist. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Moody Stroud. Admission will be free and the public is cordially invited.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The North Carolina Library Association will hold its biennial meeting in the University Union, Thursday and Friday, November 12-13. Mr. Carl Milam, Secretary of the American Library Association, will deliver an address at 2:30 Friday afternoon. From 4:00 to 6:00 Friday afternoon a tea will be given in the Woman's College Library. Those interested are cordially invited to attend the general sessions at 2:30 Thursday and Friday afternoons; also the tea. This meeting will be attended by college and other librarians from all over the state and the sessions are expected to be of unusual interest.

DR. GITTINGS TO BE HERE

Dr. John C. Gittings, Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Pennsylvania and lecturer in Pediatrics at the Johns Hopkins Medical School, will speak at the meeting of the Durham-Orange County Medical Society at the Duke Hospital on Friday evening, November 13, at 7:30; and will give a clinic at the Duke Hospital on Saturday morning, November 14, at 11:30. The members of the medical profession of the state are invited to attend these meetings.

FOOTBALL GAME SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14

The annual football game between Duke and North Carolina State College will be played in the Duke Stadium, Saturday, November 14, at 2:00 p.m. This is next to the last home game of the season and is sure to attract a large crowd, particularly in view of the strong showing that has been made to date by both teams.

MATHEMATICS CLUB MEETING

The Mathematics Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday evening, November 11, at 7 o'clock, in 205 Gray. The speakers of the evening will be Dr. R. G. D. Richardson, of Brown University, secretary of the American Mathematical Society, and Dr. J. H. Roberts, of Duke. You are cordially invited to attend.

ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES

The thirty-third annual conference of the Association of American Universities is being held in Chapel Hill Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 12-13-14. On Thursday, November 12, at 12 o'clock, the University is giving a luncheon in the University Union for the delegates and guests, and afterwards a tour of the campuses will be made.

DUKE-CAROLINA FOOTBALL GAME

The outstanding event of the football season of 1931 will be the Duke-Carolina game Saturday afternoon, November 21, at 2 o'clock at the Duke Stadium. This annual football classic is expected to attract thousands of spectators and to go down in sports annals as one of the greatest contests in the history of the state.

Quite a number of persons of prominence, officially and otherwise, in North Carolina and other states will be among the spectators at Saturday's game.

AUTUMN ART EXHIBIT

The Autumn Art Exhibit of the Duke University Art Association opened on the evening of Tuesday, November 10, with a showing especially for the members of the Art Association and their guests. The exhibit consists of oil paintings of negro plantation types, by Mrs. Marshall Williams of Faison, N. C., who is widely known as an artist throughout the South. Much interest has been manifested in the exhibition, and many visitors, not only from the University community and Durham but from other parts of the state, are expected during the coming week. At Woman's College Library.

DUKE TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The Duke University Telephone Directory, which has been in process of preparation for some time, is in the hands of the printer, and will be issued on or about November 20. It has been necessary to compile much information from various sources in preparing this Directory, and it is hoped that it will supply a real need on the campus.

DORIS KENYON HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Doris Kenyon, who in private life is Mrs. Milton Sills, will be heard in "Lyric Silhouettes," an evening of songs in costume, at Page Auditorium, Friday evening, November 20. This will be the second in the 1931-32 Duke Concert Series.

Miss Kenyon has been in Europe during recent months and has been received with great enthusiasm there. San Malo, violinist, will appear on the program with her. Mussolini, who is himself a violinist, says that San Malo is one of the greatest violinists living today; thus a delightful joint recital is assured.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL GAME

The Duke-Davidson freshman game will be played at the Duke Stadium, Friday afternoon, November 20. Both teams are making notably good records, and a thrilling contest is expected.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Press Association will meet in the Duke University Union on Saturday morning, November 21, at which time plans for the North Carolina Press Institute, to be held at the University of North Carolina and Duke January 13-14-15, will be perfected. The dinner on the evening of January 14 and the evening session of the Institute will be held at Duke, the visitors being shown over the two campuses in the afternoon preceding the dinner.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK

National Book Week is being observed from November 15 to 21. The theme for the week, "Around the World in Books," is being carried out with an appropriate exhibit in the Booklovers' Room of the Woman's College Library. Both adults and children are sure to enjoy the books on display.

DUKE UNIVERSITY DAY DECEMBER 11

Arrangements are now being made for the observance in various cities in this and other states of Duke University Day, Dec. 11, this being the seventh anniversary of the signing by the late James B. Duke of the Indenture of Trust making possible Duke University. Quite a number of speakers from the University will be needed for various places on December 11, and members of the faculty are requested not to make engagements for that day that would prevent their serving the University and Alumni Office as speakers. It is hoped to make a definite assignment of speaking engagements for December 11 within the next few days. Members of the Duke faculty have been quite generous in the past in their co-operation in this matter, and the same fine spirit of helpfulness is assured this year.

DUKE TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The new Duke Telephone Directory will be ready for distribution not later than Monday, November 23. Those who do not receive their directory promptly are asked to notify the Alumni Office.

UNIVERSITY EVENTS

It is desirable that general announcements concerning the Duke University community be filed at the office of the Department of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs, 103 University Union. It will be of service to have this information as the question frequently arises, when it comes time to schedule an event of some kind, whether there is any conflict on that date. If this information is available it will be easy to answer such questions and to avoid some conflicts that might otherwise occur. In other words, the request is made that any occasion of general University interest of any nature be scheduled with this office, even though it may not be for the Calendar itself, but simply for reference.

DR. FRANK KINGDON COMING

Dr. Frank Kingdon, widely known minister of New Jersey, who made such a fine impression on the Duke University community last year, will be here again for a series of addresses, beginning November 30.

EXHIBIT OF NEWSPAPERS

The exhibit of American newspapers in Room 108, on the first floor of the General Library, on November 23-27, is sure to attract general interest. The hours will be from 2 to 4:15 p.m. Two groups of newspapers of unusual interest are those of the Revolutionary and Confederate periods. The Henkel Press, dating back to 1806, in New Market, Va., and some Henkel imprints will also be on exhibit at that time.

DR. KINGDON HERE NOV. 30 TO DEC. 6

Dr. Frank Kingdon, widely known New Jersey minister who made such a decided impression upon the community by his addresses last year, will be the guest of the University again next week from Monday to Sunday inclusive, November 30 to December 6.

Each morning, from Tuesday to Saturday inclusive, Dr. Kingdon will speak at 11:20 at the Woman's College, and at 11:40 on the University campus.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock, he will speak at the "Y" hall on the East Campus; every other evening, from Tuesday to Friday inclusive, he will address gatherings at Page Auditorium at 7:15.

On Sunday, December 6, Dr. Kingdon will address Dean Herring's Sunday School class at 9:45 a.m. and the University vespers on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Page Auditorium.

Dr. Kingdon is a forceful speaker with a real message that never fails to grip his audience. His visit here next week will be one of the outstanding events of the academic year. He is pastor of Calvary Methodist Church, of East Orange, New Jersey, and is one of the most effective preachers in America. His coming here is for the special week of religious emphasis under the joint auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and of the University.

OLDER BOYS CONFERENCE

Much interest is being manifested in the Older Boys Conference of North and South Carolina, to be held in Durham Friday, Saturday and Sunday December 4, 5 and 6. This gathering, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. of the two states, will bring to Durham between 400 and 500 boys. On the evening of Saturday, December 5, they will have dinner at Duke University, the principal address at the dinner being delivered by Dr. F. S. Hickman, of the School of Religion.

WOMEN'S FIELD DAY

The Fall Field Day of the Women's Athletic Association will be held Friday afternoon, December 4. The schedule of sports is as follows: 2:00—Tennis; 3:00—Riding; 3:30—Hockey; 4:30—Swimming. The riding exhibition and the hockey game will be on Hanes field; swimming at the Memorial gym pool; tennis on the women's courts. All students, faculty and interested members of the community are invited to attend these events.

ALL-STATE CHARITY FOOTBALL GAME

On Saturday, December 5, at 2 p.m. in the Duke Stadium the all-state football game, under the auspices of Governor Gardner's committee on Unemployment Relief, will be played between teams representing Duke, Carolina, Wake Forest, N. C. State and Davidson. One team will be composed of Duke and Carolina players, and this aggregation will be opposed by players representing Davidson, N. C. State and Wake Forest. The admission will be $1 and $2, and it is hoped and believed that a tremendous crowd will be in attendance. The sale of tickets throughout the state will be in charge of the American Legion.

It is announced that the State-Davidson-Wake Forest team will train at State, while the Carolina-Duke team will alternate between these two institutions.

DUKE UNIVERSITY DAY

Arrangements are going forward rapidly for Duke University Day. Many of the faculty members will address alumni groups in this and other states. Again the suggestion is made that members of the faculty who have been assisting in these meetings in the past, keep the day, December 11, open, as far as possible, until definite assignments are made. That will be known not later than Monday, November 30.

POST-GRADUATE CLINICS

Post-graduate clinics will be held in the Duke Hospital on Friday and Saturday, December 4 and 5.

This will be the first of a series of post-graduate clinics under the auspices of the School of Medicine and the Hospital. A cordial invitation is being extended to the medical profession to attend these clinics.

RHODES SCHOLAR SELECTION

The state committee on selections of candidates for Rhodes scholarships, of which Dr. W. C. Davison, of Duke, is secretary, will meet at Duke University on Friday, December 4, and at the University of North Carolina, on Saturday, December 5. Candidates for selection as Rhodes scholars will appear at that time, and announcement will be made of those chosen as candidates.

ONE SHOW WEDNESDAY EVENING

On account of the address that evening in Page Auditorium by Dr. Frank Kingdon, Quadrangle Pictures will have only one show on Wednesday, December 2; that will be the 9 o'clock performance.

PHI BETA KAPPA INITIATION

On Tuesday, December 8, at 7:30 p.m. the Phi Beta Kappa fall initiation will take place in Room 205, University Union. There will be an initiation of twelve junior elections, followed by light refreshments.

BANQUET OF NEWCOMERS CLUB

Members of the Newcomers Club will gather Wednesday, December 9, at 7 p.m. in their banquet, this being the annual Christmas dinner. Christmas music will be one of the features of the event. The occasion is formal. About 100 persons are expected to be in attendance. The banquet will be at the Hope Valley Country Club.

MEETING OF GRADUATE CLUB

The meeting of the Graduate Club for December will be held on Wednesday evening, December 9, in Room 205, University Union. The speaker is Dr. Alban G. Widgery, of the department of philosophy, who will present a subject of genuine interest. In the social hour to follow interesting "surprises" are promised.

LUTHERAN ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The Lutheran Student Association will hold its first regular meeting on Friday, December 11, at 8 p.m. in Room 205, University Union. All Lutheran students and faculty members and any others wishing to attend are cordially invited. The meeting is of a social nature and refreshments will be served.

SIGMA XI MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Sigma Xi Club in Room 116, Chemistry Building, Friday, December 11, at 7:30 p.m. There will be two talks, one by Dr. L. A. Bigelow on "Fluorine and Its Action on Organic Compounds," and one by Prof. Douglas Hill, on "Kinetics of Reactions in the Gaseous Stage." The public is invited.

CLARE CLAIBERT

Clare Clairbert, Belgian coloratura soprano, will appear here on Monday evening, December 14, at Page Auditorium, in the third of the series of Duke University concerts. With Miss Clairbert, on this occasion, will appear Carl Achatz, the world's greatest flutist, and Frances De Bourguignon, French pianist.

CHRISTMAS TREES FROM THE DUKE FOREST

The Forestry Department is prepared this year to furnish selected Red Cedar Christmas Trees from the Duke Forest to anyone connected with the University.

Prices including delivery at any Durham address:

Trees 2-3 ft. high.....	$.50
Trees 4-6 ft. high.....	.75
Trees 6-8 ft. high.....	1.00

Larger trees are available at proportionate prices. Orders should be placed at the Forestry Office—University Branch Phone 339—not later than December 15, for delivery between December 21-24.

DURHAM MEETING OF DUKE ALUMNI

As a forerunner to the many Duke University Day meetings on Friday, December 11, the Durham alumni group will hold its annual meeting in the University Union at dinner on the preceding day, December 10, at 7 p.m. Coach Wallace Wade and other members of the University coaching staff and members of the varsity and freshman football squads will be special guests on this occasion.

In addition to alumni members of the Duke faculty other members of the faculty will be welcomed at this meeting. Tickets for those on the campus, including Duke alumni and other members of the faculty as well, can be secured at the Information Office, in the University Union, on Wednesday, December 10, the price being $1.50 each. It is very important that members of the University community secure their tickets on that day, in order that there may be an accurate check on the number who will attend.

President H. G. Hedrick, of the Durham County Alumni Association, has sent out letters to the several hundred alumni in the city and county urging their attendance at this dinner, which is expected to be a notable introduction to the series of Duke University Day meetings to be held on December 11 and later.

FIFTY-THREE DUKE UNIVERSITY DAY MEETINGS

Fifty-three Duke University Day meetings have been scheduled in observance of the seventh anniversary of the signing by the late James B. Duke of the Indenture of Trust making possible Duke University, with its notably expanded facilities. These celebrations in most cases will take the form of dinner meetings on Friday, December 11, though for local reasons four or five of the meetings will be held on other days. Information at the Alumni Office reveals the fact that 37 meetings will be held in North Carolina cities, 13 in cities in other states of the Union, and two in countries overseas.

Following is a list of speakers for Duke University Day, as arranged at present:

Duke University, 11:40 a. m., Page Auditorium, Willis Smith, of Raleigh; 11:20, Woman's College Auditorium, Dr. R. L. DUKE CONCERT SERIES

Attention is directed to the fact that it has been necessary to change the date of the Kreutzberg Dancers from Thursday evening, January 14, to Friday evening, January 29. The date of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has likewise been changed one day. This organization will be here Friday evening, February 5, instead of Thursday, February 4.

DR. R. L. FLOWERS WILL SPEAK

Dr. R. L. Flowers, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of Duke University, will be the speaker at the vesper services on Sunday, January 10, at 4 p.m. He is a pleasing and interesting speaker, and is sure to be heard by a large audience.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS HERE THURSDAY, JANUARY 14

Coöperating with the University of North Carolina, Duke University will have a part this year in the entertainment of those in attendance upon the North Carolina Newspaper Institute, the eighth annual session of which will convene at Chapel Hill on the evening of Wednesday, January 13.

On Thursday afternoon, January 14, the members of the North Carolina Press Association and their guests will leave Chapel Hill at 3 o'clock for Duke and will spend the afternoon visiting the two campuses. At 6:15 a dinner will be tendered the visitors in the University Union, and at 7:30, in Page Auditorium, the evening session of the Institute will be held. There will be addresses by Dean Justin Miller of the Duke Law School on "What Is a Newspaper?" and by J. Fred Essary, head of the Washington office of the Baltimore Sun, on "Washington, as a Newspaper Man Sees It." There will be a number of selections by the Duke Glee Club.

Members of the University community, both faculty and students, and citizens of Durham are cordially invited to attend the evening session of the Press Institute. The addresses will be on subjects not only interesting to newspaper editors and publishers but to others as well. Mr. Essary's coming will be an event of statewide interest for he is one of the outstanding correspondents of the national capital and is a frequent contributor to magazines on political and economic subjects. Mr. Essary, in addition to his extensive newspaper and magazine writings, has written a number of books, among them "Maryland in National Politics," "Your War Taxes," "Covering Washington," "Reverse English," and "Ships."

J. L. Horne, Jr., publisher of the Telegram of Rocky Mount and a Duke alumnus, is president of the North Carolina Press Association, which has been conducting the Press Institute for several years with the coöperation of the University of North Carolina. Miss Beatrice Cobb, of Morganton, is secretary of the Association.

APPOINTMENTS OFFICE

The committee, recently named to consider the matter of reorganizing and expanding Duke University's facilities in connection with the handling of matters pertaining to teaching and commercial positions for its graduates and students, has decided upon the opening on Monday, January 11, of an Appointments Office, in Room 202 Administration building, University campus. Miss Wilhelmina Isenhour will be in charge. The office hours for the present will be from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

The Appointments Office will consist of two divisions, the Division of Teacher Placement, under the immediate direction of Dr. Holland Holton, and the Division of Commercial Positions, under the direction of Henry R. Dwire. Matters pertaining to both divisions will be handled from the central office in the Administration building, except that business arising outside office hours, as given above, will be handled directly with Dr. Holton at the Summer School office if it is in the line of teaching appointments, and with Mr. Dwire, 103 University Union, if it relates to commercial positions.

The registration of applicants for positions will begin Monday, January 11. It is suggested that those who have registered in the past might find it advantageous to register again on the new blanks that are being used in the Appointments Office.

The special committee appointed recently to work out plans for the reorganized Appointments Office will hold another meeting within the next few weeks to consider further the matter of a permanent arrangement on an expanded basis. The committee is composed of H. R. Dwire, Dr. Holland Holton, Dr. A. M. Proctor, and Professor Paul Gross. Any suggestions regarding the matter should be made to some member of the committee.

"THE PRINCE CHAP"

Theta Alpha Phi (national honorary dramatic fraternity) of Duke University, will present "The Prince Chap," a three-act comedy-drama, on Friday evening, January 15, at 8:15, in Page Auditorium. Admission, 25 cents.

COMMUNITY TEA TUESDAY

The regular monthly Duke University Community Tea will be given on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the Woman's College Union. Mrs. J. P. Breedlove is committee chairman.

INFORMATION FOR CATALOGUE

It is urgently requested that all information from departments for the Undergraduate Catalogue be sent at once to Room 103, University Union. The information from quite a number of departments is complete, but several have not yet sent in their data. It is very important that this be received within the next few days. Mail relating to catalogue information should be addressed to Box LM, Duke Station.

CHEMISTRY MEETING AT DUKE

The North Carolina Section of the American Chemical Society will meet at Duke University on Friday evening, January 15, at 8 o'clock in the Lecture Room of the Chemistry building. The speaker of the occasion will be Dr. E. V. McCollum, of Johns Hopkins University, whose subject will be "The Chemical Background of the Science of Nutrition."

Dr. McCollum is head of the Department of Chemical Hygiene, of the School of Hygiene and Public Health at Johns Hopkins, and is an internationally known authority on the science of nutrition. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas, and of Yale, and was for many years a teacher of distinction at Wisconsin, before taking up his present work. He is the recipient of many medals for distinguished service, and a member of numerous American and foreign scientific societies.

The North Carolina Section cordially invites any who may be interested to attend this meeting, which is free and open to the public.

FACULTY "GYM"

Miss Grout announces that each Monday night from 7:30 to 9:30, at the Woman's College Gymnasium, the faculty and women students of the University will be given an opportunity to participate in many games—ping pong, quoits, volley ball, deck tennis, swimming and basketball. You are invited to come and bring your own group.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE GLEE CLUB

On Tuesday, January 12, at 8:15 o'clock, in Page Auditorium, the "Y" will present another of its regular monthly Tuesday Evening Recitals. For this occasion the Greensboro College Glee Club has been secured. The program will be given under the direction of Mr. Edward Molitore, and promises to be an enjoyable one. The public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

THE REGISTER

Any members of the faculty who are not now receiving the Alumni Register, and who desire that this publication be sent to them, are requested to notify the Alumni Office, University Union.

LISTING OF COMING EVENTS

It might be useful in preventing possible conflicts if those arranging events for the University community would communicate with the office of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs, 103 University Union, where most of the campus events are listed from time to time. In that way, the scheduling of two conflicting occasions might sometimes be avoided. This office has on file a list of coming occasions as far as known, and those who contemplate meetings of various kinds are requested to send in that information as promptly as possible, as this will at times perhaps prevent conflicts that should be avoided.

THE SCHEDULE COMMITTEE.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE TUESDAY EVENING

There will be an illustrated lecture by Dr. Allen H. Godbey, in Room 210, School of Religion building, on Monday evening, January 25, at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "Egypt's Influence in Palestine." The University community and public are invited.

ART EXHIBITION CONTINUES

The exhibition in the Woman's College Library of stained glass windows in water colors by George Pearce Ennis began on Tuesday, January 19, and will continue through the month. The thirty-eight designs have been greatly admired by those who have visited the exhibition, and doubtless many more from the University community, as well as from the outside, will take advantage of one opportunity to view examples of the work of one of America's foremost artists in this line.

KREUTZBERG FRIDAY, JANUARY 29

Harald Kreutzberg and his dancing group, in a delightful program of artistic dancing, will be the next attraction in the Duke University 1931-32 Concert Series. Much interest is already being manifested in this attraction, which is scheduled for Friday night, January 29, at 8:15. This concert promises to be one of the most unusual and attractive features of the entire series.

The New York Times of January 10 published a three-column article on Kreutzberg and his dancing group. The same article stated that Mr. Kreutzberg is undoubtedly the greatest male dancer of the day. The group has been appearing in New York for the past two weeks to capacity audiences and the attraction will come to Duke direct from the New York engagement, stopping only in Washington en route.

Prices for single tickets for this attraction are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, and $2.50. Tickets will be on sale Monday, January 25, at 9 a.m., Room 201, University Union.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FEBRUARY 5

From mail orders already received, the concert to be given by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra of 84 men in Page Auditorium on the evening of February 5 (instead of February 4, as originally announced), gives promise of the largest audience of the entire year.

Mr. Eugene Ormandy, the new conductor of the orchestra, is described as a real "find." He has on numerous occasions conducted the famous Philadelphia Symphony, and critics class him in the front rank with Toscanini, Koussevitsky, Stokowski, and others of their calibre.

Tickets for this attraction, as well as for the Kreutzberg Dancers, will be on sale Monday morning, January 25, at 9 o'clock, in Room 201 of the University Union.

DR. KOO AT VESPERS JANUARY 31

The speaker at the University vespers in York Chapel on Sunday afternoon, January 31, at 4 o'clock will be Dr. T. Z. Koo, of China, vice chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation.

The following regarding Dr. Koo is from an article recently sent out from the Atlanta office of the World's Student Christian Federation:

"Dr. Koo is equally qualified to contribute to the thinking of American students on religion and world life. Since his graduation from St. John's University, in Shanghai, China, he has been engaged in work among students not only in China but also, as traveling secretary for the World's Student Christian Federation, of India, Europe and America. Many times Dr. Koo has been called upon to represent his country in international gatherings. He was one of the three representatives chosen by the Chinese people to the Second Opium Conference, called in Switzerland by the League of Nations in 1925. Later when the need was recognized for an interpreter in the United States and Canada of the Chinese situation who could speak with knowledge, understanding, and authority, backed by Chinese public opinion, the Chinese Ambassador in Washington approved Dr. Koo and pressed upon the Chinese National Committee the importance of his being released for such a mission. At the World's Conference of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Koo's leadership was among the most effective in the entire group of outstanding figures."

BASKETBALL GAME, DUKE VS. N. C. STATE

An outstanding athletic event will be the basketball game Saturday night, January 23, between Duke and N. C. State. Both varsity and freshman contests will be on the program. A large crowd is expected to witness these events. The freshman game will start at 7:15 and the varsity at 8:30.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FEBRUARY 5

One of the outstanding events of the entire year at Duke University will be the concert on Friday evening, February 5, in Page Auditorium, at 8:15, by the famous Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, with Eugene Ormandy as conductor. This is the twenty-ninth season of this celebrated musical organization, and its appearance at Duke is expected to attract music-lovers from various parts of the state.

Mr. Ormandy, the conductor of the orchestra, has been the recipient of unstinted praise from the most capable critics on his work with the Minneapolis Orchestra, and is coming to be known as one of the leading conductors of the present day. His appearance with the organization on its tour is creating increased interest in its concerts.

The program for the concert here on Friday evening is as follows:

NOTED CHEMIST TO SPEAK

There will be a meeting of the North Carolina Section of the American Chemical Society, on Friday,

February 5, at 8 o'clock, in the Lecture Room of the Chemistry building. The speaker will be Dr. Charles A. Kraus, of Brown University, director of the Newport Rogers Laboratory. His subject will be "Some Simple Electronic Reactions."

Dr. Kraus is a graduate of Kansas and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After a time as research associate in physical chemistry at the Institute, he was for a decade director of the chemical laboratory at Clark University, going to Brown in 1924. During this time he has become nationally known for his outstanding research achievements in the fields of physical chemistry, organic free radicals, and the technique of liquid ammonia solutions. In addition to this, Dr. Kraus is a very interesting and forceful speaker and has an unusual ability to reduce to simple and understandable terms any material with which he deals in his lectures.

The meeting is open to the public, and any who are interested are cordially invited.

DR. LINLEY V. GORDON TO SPEAK

Dr. Linley V. Gordon, extension secretary of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, will be the speaker for University speakers on Sunday afternoon, February 7, at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Gordon, who makes his headquarters in New York, is widely known throughout America as a speaker on international problems, and particularly world peace. He has made a thorough study of international relationships bearing on the subject and is said to be a decidedly entertaining speaker who knows how to present forceful arguments in a most attractive manner.

CHAPEL SATURDAY IN PAGE AUDITORIUM

The University Chapel exercises on Saturday, February 13, at 11:40 a.m., will be in Page Auditorium instead of in York Chapel, as is usually the case. Particular attention is directed to this change.

The speaker will be Prof. H. E. Luecock, of the Yale Divinity School.

DUKE VS. CAROLINA

Outstanding on the athletic schedule of the month is the basketball game Saturday night, February 13, between the Duke and U. N. C. teams. The freshman game will begin at 7:15 and the varsity game at 8:30. There is intense interest in these games as they will have a decided bearing on the 1932 State Basketball Championship.

The games will be played in the Duke Gymnasium. The price of reserved seats will be seventy-five cents.

PROFESSOR LUCCOCK TO SPEAK

Professor H. E. Luecock, of the Yale Divinity School, will be the speaker at the University Vespers in York Chapel on Sunday, February 14, at 4 p.m. On Monday, February 15, he will speak at Page Auditorium at 11:40 a.m.

Much interest has been manifested in Prof. Luecock's visit to Duke and he is sure to be heard by large audiences. He is widely known throughout the country as a forceful speaker and brilliant writer on religious subjects.

DUKE HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Regular meetings of the Duke Hospital Auxiliary will be held each Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Room M124, Duke Hospital.

CONCERT BY MUSICAL CLUBS

The Duke University Musical Clubs will give their annual concert in Page Auditorium Tuesday evening, February 16, at 8:15. It will be the only concert of the organization on the campus this year. On the program will be the entire Men's Glee Club, of about 50 voices, the symphony orchestra, the jazz orchestra, a comedy skit ("Grand Opera Up-to-date"), in addition to quartets, solos, and other numbers. The program will be the same as was given on the recent fall tour of the clubs. The admission price will be fifty cents.

The comedy skit, "Grand Opera Up-to-date," has proven quite popular everywhere the club has given it. All of the music is from real grand opera, but the scene is quite modern and the comedy is most unique. Mr. James Fowler, president of the club, takes the leading part, taking the rôle of Mrs. Tyler. Opposite her is Mr. Barnes, taking the part of Mr. Tyler.

PHI BETA KAPPA MEETING

The Duke chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will meet in its February business session on Wednesday, February 17, at 3 p.m. in Room 106, School of Religion.

A notice issued by Prof. James Cannon III, secretary of the chapter, stated that there will be senior elections, alumni elections and honorary elections at this meeting.

DR. HAROLD F. CARR HERE FEBRUARY 20-21

On Sunday, February 21, at 4 p.m. Dr. Harold F. Carr will be the speaker at vespers in York Chapel. On the preceding day, Saturday, February 20, he will address the University community at 11:40 a.m. in Page Auditorium.

Dr. Carr, who is Student Secretary of the University of Pennsylvania, will be guest preacher over the week-end and it is expected that large audiences will hear him. He is exceedingly popular at the University of Pennsylvania and has done a remarkable work among the students there. This is the first opportunity Duke students and the community generally have had to hear this brilliant speaker, who is regarded as one of the most forceful young preachers of the day. His coming is being anticipated with much interest.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The Southern Division Conference of Delta Tau Delta will be held Friday and Saturday, February 19 and 20, in the University Union.

UNIVERSITY VESPERS FEBRUARY 21

The speaker at University Vespers in York Chapel on Sunday, February 21, at 4 p.m. will be Dr. Harold F. Carr, of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Carr has made an enviable record as Student Secretary of that institution and is recognized as an exceedingly forceful and interesting speaker.

"ALISON'S HOUSE"

Professor A. T. West will read "Alison's House" on Sunday, February 21, at 8 o'clock, in the Little Theatre room, Woman's College Campus. The public is invited.

WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Duke University and the city of Durham will celebrate jointly the bicentennial of George Washington's birth on Monday, February 22, in public exercises to be held in Page Auditorium, on the University campus. Leo F. Wormser, prominent Chicago attorney, will make the address of the evening.

Mayor D. W. Sorrell of Durham, President W. P. Few of Duke and Dean Elbert Russell, of the School of Religion, will take part in the program.

The formal program of the evening, which is to start at 8 o'clock, will be preceded by an hour showing of special moving pictures to which all Durham people and Duke students are invited. The formal program will begin immediately afterwards.

President Few will preside over the bicentennial program. Music will be rendered under the direction of J. Foster Barnes of the University, and invocation will be pronounced by Dean Russell.

Mayor Sorrell will present a reading of Washington's "Farewell Address," a document which has never ceased to inspire Americans whenever it is read.

Mr. Wormser, who is to make the evening's address, is lecturer at University of Chicago Law School in addition to his active practice of law. He is attorney for the Rosenwald Fund, one of the great American philanthropic foundations, and is a trustee of the Rosenwald Industrial Museum of Chicago. Mr. Wormser is a member of the commission on the development of the University of Chicago. He is a member of the American Bar Association and other leading legal organizations.

At 6:30 o'clock on the evening of the celebration, an informal dinner will be given at the University Union for members of the faculty and their wives, and those appearing on the program. A number of out-of-town visitors, including James A. Thomas, of White Plains, N. Y., chairman of the Duke Memorial and a loyal friend of the University, will come here for the exercises.

TUESDAY EVENING RECITAL

One of the series of Tuesday Evening Recitals under the auspices of the Duke University Y. M. C. A. will be given in Page Auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock. The artist on this occasion will be George F. Boyle, pianist, of the Institute of Musical Art, New York City. He was formerly with the Curtis Institute and the Peabody Institute, and has a wide reputation as an outstanding pianist. The University community and the public are cordially invited. Admission is free.

TO ADDRESS CLASSICAL CLUB

J. Penrose Harland, professor of archaeology at the University of North Carolina, will give a lecture before the Classical Club of Duke University on Tuesday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock, illustrated with lantern views. The lecture will be held in the Greek Room, 205 School of Religion. The public is invited.

QUADRANGLE PICTURES BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Quadrangle Pictures Birthday Party will take place on Wednesday, February 24, from 2:00 to 12:00 p.m., the occasion being observed with continuous performances. There will be five stage acts with Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra; also "Private Lives," featuring Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery. Stage acts will be given at 4:00, 7:00, and 10:00 p.m.

The price of admission will be 25 cents.

EXHIBIT OF DUKE FOREST PLANTS

An unusual exhibit of plants taken from Duke forest, the University's tract of several thousand acres adjoining the campus, is being inspected by visitors at the lobby of the new biology building. The exhibit consists of trees, shrubs, and flowers native to the University forest and will be changed once or twice weekly throughout the remainder of the session.

Classes in botany are sponsoring the exhibit, with the assistance of Dr. H. L. Blomquist, of the biology department, and Dr. C. F. Korstian, director of Duke forest. First of the plants to be placed on exhibit included shrubs, wild plum, and alder. Scores of examples of other native flora will be shown from time to time during the spring and early summer.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TOURNAMENTS

The Southern Conference Tournament for basketball will be held in Atlanta, beginning Friday, February 26; the Boxing Tournament will be held in Charlottesville, Virginia, at the same time.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES AT DUKE

Two intercollegiate debates are scheduled for the week of February 29-March 5. On Monday evening, February 29, at 8 o'clock, Duke will meet Wake Forest College; on Thursday evening, March 3, at 8 o'clock, the Duke debaters will contest with representatives from George Washington University. Both debates will be held in Room 205, University Union.

The Duke debaters are to uphold the affirmative of the query, Resolved, that Congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry (the issue of constitutionality is waived.) The members of the Duke debating team are Mr. John R. Jenkins and Mr. Arthur Koffler, principals, and Mr. Raymond Council and Mr. Pardue Bunch, alternates. Everyone is invited.

Y. M. C. A. OPEN HOUSE

On the evening of Wednesday, March 2, from 7 to 8 o'clock, the first Y. M. C. A. Wednesday Night Open House will be held in the reception hall on the second floor of the University Union. Music will be rendered by the Blue Devil Orchestra. Two hundred tickets will be available at the "Y" office from 3 to 6 o'clock on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

"POST-EXAM JUBILEE"

The annual "post-exam jubilee" will be held on the evening of Tuesday, March 1, at 8:00 o'clock in the Auditorium on the Woman's College Campus. The Y. W. C. A. presents a trophy in connection with these yearly events, this being held by the winning group for one year. The jubilee is sponsored by the Social Committee of the "Y". Titles for the various "stunts" have not yet been announced.

An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds to go to the general fund of the Y. W. C. A. Tickets were placed on sale Friday, February 26, and will also be available at the door.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS INVITED

The following notice has been issued by Dr. W. A. Stanbury, Pastor of Duke Memorial M.E. Church, South:

"Churches throughout Southern Methodism are observing Wednesday, March 2, as a day of prayer. Under the leadership of Rev. H. C. Smith, Presiding Elder, and the pastors of the Methodist Churches of Durham and surrounding territory, services will be held at Duke Memorial Church from 3:00 to 5:00 P. M. Wednesday afternoon. These two hours are to be divided into four periods of 30 minutes each, each period being devoted to meditation and prayer as follows:

"3:00-3:30—World Peace—Leader, Dr. Elbert Russell.

"3:30-4:00—A Better Economic and Social Order—Leader, Rev. Albea Godbold.

"4:00-4:30—World Missions and All Benevolences of the Church—Leader, Rev. R. E. Brown.

"4:30-5:00—The Inner Life—Leader, Rev. H. C. Smith.

"These services are open to the public. A special invitation is extended to the faculty and students of the School of Religion."

PAINTING EXHIBITION

One of the most interesting exhibitions of the Art Association will be held at the Woman's College Library on March 1-21. This exhibition will be on Contemporary American Painting and will include the work of some well-known modern American artists. The public is cordially invited to attend.

DR. WALTER JUDD TO SPEAK

Dr. Walter Judd, medical missionary to China, now visiting a number of colleges and universities throughout the country as traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will speak at the University Vespers, in York Chapel, on Sunday, March 6. Dr. Judd's long residence in China and other parts of the Orient has given him a close insight into the international situation in the Far East now drawing the attention of the world, and his message at the regular vespers is expected to be of exceptional interest. The visiting speaker has been heard by students and other groups in many sections of the country during the past few weeks.

JOHN McCORMACK COMING

It has been definitely announced that John McCormack, world-renowned tenor, will sing in Page Auditorium on the evening of Tuesday, March 15, this probably being the last of the concerts by famous artists for the spring semester. The McCormack recital is an extra number not included in the regular Duke Concert Series. Arrangements for the occasion, which is expected to attract music-lovers from all parts of the state, are being made by J. Foster Barnes, who has charge of the Duke Concert Series.

John McCormack, recognized as the world's premier concert tenor, has been engaged in operatic and concert work for a number of years, during which time he has delighted audiences throughout the United States and in other countries as well. In the course of his operatic career he has sung most successfully with the Metropolitan, Chicago, Philadelphia, Manhattan and other opera companies. He has also scored tremendous successes in London, Paris and other European centers. His talking machine records are among the most popular issued.

A John McCormack concert is an event of state-wide importance. Already many inquiries are being made regarding the seat sale, which will begin March 3. A packed house on the coming of March 15 is assured.

DR. JUDD TO SPEAK MARCH 6

The speaker at the weekly vespers in York Chapel at 4 o'clock on Sunday, March 6, will be Dr. Walter Judd, returned medical missionary from China, who is now traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Dr. Judd has a wide reputation as a forceful speaker, especially on international topics, and he is sure to be heard at Duke by a large and interested audience. Because of his insight into the Far East situation, he has been in especially great demand as a speaker on public occasions in recent months and a chance to hear him presents a rare opportunity to the University community and friends.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL MISSIONARY INSTITUTE

The Thirteenth Annual Missionary Institute, conducted jointly by the Board of Missions of the M. E. Church, South, and the Duke Department of Religion, is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8. Addresses will be delivered in York Chapel on Monday at 8:40, 9:40, 10:40 and 12:10 by Dr. Walter Judd, Dr. John Paul Tyler, Dr. J. A. Snell, and Dr. E. H. Rawlings, in the order given. The classes in the School of Religion and certain groups in the undergraduate Department of Religion enrolled in elective courses will be combined for the sessions of the Institute. The addresses are open to the public. On Tuesday Drs. Snell and Tyler will speak before Prof. Cannon's classes in Missions, meeting in Room 109, School of Religion, at 9:40 and 10:40. A night session on Monday at 8 o'clock in Room 210, School of Religion, will be featured by the showing of moving pictures of Chinese life taken and exhibited by Dr. Snell himself.

Of the team of visiting speakers, Drs. Snell and Judd are medical missionaries serving in China, Dr. Tyler is presiding elder of the Baltimore district of the M. E. Church, South, and Dr. Rawlings is editor of the Missionary Voice.

MISS FLORENCE JACKSON HERE

Miss Florence Jackson is to be a guest on the Woman's College Campus, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 8 and 9. She will speak, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Woman's College Auditorium on "Vocations Open to Women With an A.B. Degree"; and at chapel exercises on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Miss Jackson was for a number of years Director of the Collegiate Bureau in Boston, and is a vocational guidance expert. She is familiar with business and professional opportunities open to women, and is at present vocational consultant in a number of colleges for women. Her appearance here is sponsored by the Student Y. W. C. A. and the Public Lectures Committee. She will be glad to interview interested students.

DR. GEORGE R. MINOT

Dr. George R. Minot, professor of medicine at Harvard Medical School, and Director of the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory at Boston City Hospital, will lecture and conduct a clinic over the week-end at Duke Hospital. His lecture will be made on Friday evening, March 11, at 8 o'clock, before the Durham-Orange County Medical Society.

At 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, he will give a clinic in the Duke Hospital Amphitheatre. Dr. Minot is discoverer of the effect of liver in treatment of pernicious anemia, and is one of the outstanding authorities in the world on anemia and other diseases of the blood. Invitation is extended to the medical profession to attend the clinic and lecture.

MATHEMATICS MEETINGS

There will be a meeting in Room 104, Page, on Thursday, March 10, at 7:00 p.m. of the signers of a petition for Pi Mu Epsilon Mathematics Fraternity.

MEETING OF ERASMUS CLUB

On Monday, March 7, there will be a meeting of the Erasmus Club at 8:00 p.m. in the Faculty Club House. A paper by Prof. William Blackburn on "Carlyle and Hare as Biographers of John Sterling" will be a feature of the occasion.

SIGMA XI DINNER MEETING

On Friday, March 11, at 6:30 p.m. in the Woman's College Union, the Sigma Xi dinner and business meeting will be held. A full attendance is desired.

DANCE RECITAL FRIDAY, MARCH 11

There will be a dance recital on Friday, March 11, at 8 p.m. in the Woman's College Auditorium. This recital will be given by the natural and tap dancing classes under the auspices of the department of physical education for women. The public is invited. No admission charges will be made.

PRESIDENT LACY HERE MARCH 12 AND 13

President Benjamin R. Lacy, of the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Virginia, will be the speaker at University vespers on Sunday, March 13, in York Chapel at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Lacy, a native of Raleigh, was for a number of years pastor of Central Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia. He has been head of the Richmond institution since 1926. He was chaplain in the Thirtieth Division overseas during the World War.

Dr. Lacy is widely known as a strong minister and educator and as a speaker who never fails to interest and inspire his hearers. His coming here is being eagerly anticipated.

On Saturday, March 12, Dr. Lacy will speak at Chapel exercises in Page Auditorium at 11:40 a.m.

JOHN McCORMACK AT DUKE MARCH 15

Seats are now on sale at Room 201, University Union, for the John McCormack Concert in Page Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, March 15. Present indications point to a capacity house on this occasion. Many music-lovers will be here from other sections of the state and the event promises to be one of the most notable in the entire history of Duke University concerts. Prices are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, and $2.50.

Mr. McCormack has been having a notably successful season. Regarding his concert in Washington, D. C., on November 29 last, the Post of that city, said:

"Everybody who heard him must have felt that the glorious musical day of this singer is at full moon, because seldom if ever has he been in better voice than last night."

The New York Evening Journal of November 16 last said, regarding his concert in that city:

"The tenor was in excellent spirits and super-voice and the characteristics of his art, his apt and musically phrasing, his sheer vocal skill, his clear-cut diction and his simple but poignant interpretation of a song, were never marshalled with any more telling effect than they were last night. The applause turned into hearty cheers before the evening was over."

DR. LACY TO SPEAK AT VESPERS

Dr. Benjamin R. Lacy, president of the widely known Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Va., will speak at the University vespers in York Chapel at 4 o'clock Sunday, March 13. On Saturday, March 12, he speaks at Chapel exercises in Page Auditorium, at 11:40 a.m.

Dr. Lacy is a native of Raleigh. He has held prominent pastorates and during the World War was a chaplain in the Thirtieth Division. He has held his present position since 1926. He is a notably strong speaker and will doubtless be heard by large audiences here.

DR. EDWIN MIMS HERE MONDAY, MARCH 14

Monday, March 14, will be 9019-South Atlantic Quarterly Day at Duke University. Dr. Edwin Mims, of Vanderbilt University, formerly of the Trinity College faculty and one of the first editors of the Quarterly, will be the honor guest for the day. The Thirtieth Anniversary of the Quarterly, second oldest publication of its kind in the South, will be observed at that time.

Dr. Mims will speak three times. At 11:40 a.m. Monday he will speak on a subject of timely interest in Page Auditorium to as many members of the University community and citizens of Durham as can be present at that time. In the evening, in the course of the 9019-South Atlantic Quarterly dinner, he will speak briefly, perhaps partly in a reminiscent vein, regarding his experiences with the Quarterly and as a member of the Trinity College faculty. Then, at 8:00 p.m. in the University Union, on the second floor, he will deliver an address pertinent to the thirtieth anniversary of the South Atlantic Quarterly, discussing a topic of timeliness and importance. President W. P. Few will preside at this meeting and the public is cordially invited.

Arrangements for the exercises of Monday are in the hands of the Quarterly Board and of the 9019, of which organization Paul Garner, of the Senior Class, is president. The members of the Quarterly Board are Dr. W. H. Wannamaker, Dr. W. T. Laprade, Dr. N. I. White, Dr. Calvin B. Hoover, and Henry R. Dwire, the latter being managing editor of the Quarterly.

A number of visitors from outside the University community and Durham are expected to be here Monday to hear Dr. Mims.

DINNER MONDAY EVENING

The dinner Monday evening, March 14, in connection with the Thirtieth Anniversary of the South Atlantic Quarterly, referred to above, is being sponsored by the Quarterly Board and the 9019. Faculty members and officers of the University, as well as student members of the 9019, are expected to attend. The dinner will be held in the dining room on the second floor of the University Union. Paul Garner, president of the 9019, will preside. President Few, Dr. Glasson, Dr. Boyd, Dr. Wannamaker and other former editors of the Quarterly as well as the present editorial board of the publication will be among the special guests at the dinner, along with Dr. Mims.

No special letters of invitation to this dinner are being sent out. Any faculty members and University officers who are interested in the occasion will be welcomed and may obtain tickets at the Information Desk in the lobby of the University Union for $1.00 each. No tickets will be available after noon of Monday, March 14.

The dinner is entirely informal.

PRINTS ADDED TO EXHIBITION

Twenty-five prints by such men as Rockwell Kent, Childe Hassam, and Frank W. Benson have been added to the exhibition of Contemporary American Painting, to be on view in the Gallery of the Woman's College Library until March 21. This exhibition is conservative-progressive in character, and shows the two diverse tendencies of the painters of today.

JOHN McCORMACK PROGRAM

The appearance here next Tuesday evening, March 15, at 8:15, in Page Auditorium, of John McCormack, world-renowned tenor, is attracting state-wide interest. A capacity audience seems assured.

This engagement at Duke University will be Mr. McCormack's only one between Atlanta and Philadelphia. He will come here direct from Birmingham on his way to New York, where he will close his present season on the evening of Easter Sunday. This will be the famous tenor's fourth concert of the season in New York.

Following is the program for the McCormack concert here, the assisting artist being Edwin Schneider, pianist:

COMEDY PRESENTED BY DUKE PLAYERS

On the evening of Thursday, March 17, at 8:15, in Page Auditorium, the Duke Players will present Philip Barry's famous three-act comedy, "The Youngest." Miss Mary Jane Tate, Mr. William Price and Mr. A. T. West will appear in the leading rôles, Mr. West appearing in his first major rôle since coming to Duke.

The Duke Players have been rehearsing diligently for the play and it is confidently expected that they will be greeted by a large audience. The Players are doing exceptionally good work and a finished performance seems assured.

The price of admission will be 50 cents and $1.00.

DR. SPEARMAN TO SPEAK

Dr. Frank Spearman, widely known English psychologist, will speak here on the evening of Friday, March 18, at 8 o'clock, in the lecture room of the Biology Building. His subject will be, "The Nature of Human Abilities." The public is invited.

Dr. Spearman is professor of psychology at the University of London. This year he is visiting professor at Columbia University. He is one of the foremost English psychologists, and a recognized authority on the nature of human abilities, having spent over 25 years in experimental investigation of the subject.

EASTER PROGRAM

On Sunday, March 20th, at 4:00 p.m., an Easter program will be given in Page Auditorium under the direction of Professor H. E. Spence. The program will consist of devotional exercises, music, and an Easter play. A quartette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Barnes, Miss Evelyn Barnes, and Mr. Jack Melton will sing two numbers: "There is a Green Hill Far Away," and Sydney Lanier's, "Into the Woods My Master Came." Mrs. H. E. Myers will sing a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple." The three-act Easter play, "The First Easter Morning," will be presented by members of Professor Spence's class in Religious Drama.

DURHAM ARTIST WILL SPEAK

"Modern Art" is the subject chosen by Gene Erwin for his talk in the Gallery of the Woman's College Library, Thursday, March 17, at 6:45 p.m. Mr. Erwin has studied in New York and abroad, and his works have been extensively exhibited.

With Clement Strudwick and Mrs. Mary Michie, Mr. Erwin has this year opened a studio in Durham, offering courses in Figure Drawing, Oil Painting, Advertising, Costume Design, Water Color, and Crafts.

His talk is particularly significant in its relation to the current exhibition of Contemporary American Painting.

Myers will sing a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple." Members of Prof. Spence's class in religious drama will present the three-act Easter play "The First Easter Morning."

The University community and the public are cordially invited to be present for this special Easter program.

EASTER HOLIDAYS

The Easter holidays will begin on Thursday, March 24, at 4 p.m., and will continue through Monday, March 28.

MID-SEMESTER GRADES DUE APRIL 1

All grades on freshman and advanced freshman work are due in the office on Friday, April 1.

It is requested that failing grades of all sophomores, juniors and seniors be reported by April 1 to the office.

PHI BETA KAPPA DAY MARCH 29

Tuesday, March 29, will be observed as Phi Beta Kappa Day at Duke. The program will begin at 4 p.m. with an initiation of new members in Room 106, School of Religion building; at 8 p.m. the annual address will be delivered in Page Auditorium by Dr. Eugen Kuehnemann, on "Goethe and Modern Education"; at 9:15 p.m. the Phi Beta Kappa supper will be held on the second floor of the University Union.

NOTED GOETHE SCHOLAR TO SPEAK

Dr. Eugen Kuehnemann, professor of philosophy at the University of Breslau, Germany, will deliver the centennial address in memory of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, greatest German poet, who died in Weimar on March 22, 1832. The lecture will be given in Page Auditorium on Tuesday, March 29, at 8 p.m.

The Phi Beta Kappa chapter of Duke University is celebrating its annual initiation meeting on that date and Dr. Kuehnemann, an honorary member of the society, in speaking on Goethe, will be the Phi Beta Kappa orator for 1932. The lecture, which is to be given in English, will be open to all members of the college and to the general public. Appropriate Goethe music will be rendered and a picture of Goethe will be presented to the University by Delta Phi Alpha, German honorary fraternity.

Professor Kuehnemann, who is touring the United States at the invitation of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, ranks as one of the greatest living Goethe scholars. In his monumental two-volume work "Goethe," which appeared in 1930, he takes the drama "Faust" as the basis for his interpretation of the poet's development. He has also written books on Kant, Herder and Schiller. His reputation rests equally on his achievements as a philosopher and as a literary historian.

Dr. Kuehnemann was appointed as the first rector of the new Royal Academy at Posen in 1903. He has been professor of philosophy at the University of Breslau, Silesia, since 1906. From previous sojourns this German scholar is well-known in the United States. He was visiting professor at Harvard in 1908-09 and at the University of Wisconsin in 1912-13 and holds honorary degrees from both institutions. He visited America last during the early years of the World War.

KAPPA DELTA PI MEETING

The Kappa Delta Pi (Education Society) initiation will be held in Room 116, East Duke Building on Wednesday, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock, Dr. J. Fred Rippy will speak on "Colleagues—Past and Present." The public is invited to this lecture.

BASEBALL GAMES

The 1932 baseball season at Duke University will open on Saturday, March 26, when the Jersey City team will play Duke here. On Monday, March 28, the Marshall College team, of West Virginia, will be here for two games.

A. A. U. W.-UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY TEA TUESDAY

Due to the unusual interest of the speaker the regular monthly meeting of the Durham Branch of the A. A. U. W. will be combined with the Duke University Community Tea on Tuesday afternoon, March 22. All women connected with Duke University, as well as all members of the A. A. U. W., are urged to be present at 4 o'clock in the banquet room of the University Union, West Campus. Miss Clementina Douglas, of the "Spinning Wheel" in Asheville, N. C., will speak on the "History of Weaving." She will illustrate her talk by examples of weaving and old looms collected throughout Europe, Africa and the United States.

Miss Douglas studied art at the New York School of Design. Becoming interested in weaving, she traveled in Great Britain, France, Italy, Greece, and Africa, studying traditional patterns and methods existing in remote villages and convents. On returning to the United States she studied Indian weaving. At length, she established a weaving shop called the "Spinning Wheel," at Asheville, N. C., employing southern girls who have learned weaving from their grandmothers and mothers. At the "Spinning Wheel" are reproduced Old World patterns, Indian and early American.

Following Miss Douglas' talk, tea will be served by the Duke University Community Club, with Mrs. C. W. Edwards as chairman.

KREOLITE FLOORING

Long has been considered that American industry rests upon a foundation of steel. But underlying steel as well as all other industries is Kreolite.

In the vast plants of the iron and steel industry today are laid 6,134,507 square feet of Kreolite End Grain Wood Block Flooring—over 140 acres—supporting titanic machines, enduring the most terrific punishment day after day, year after year.

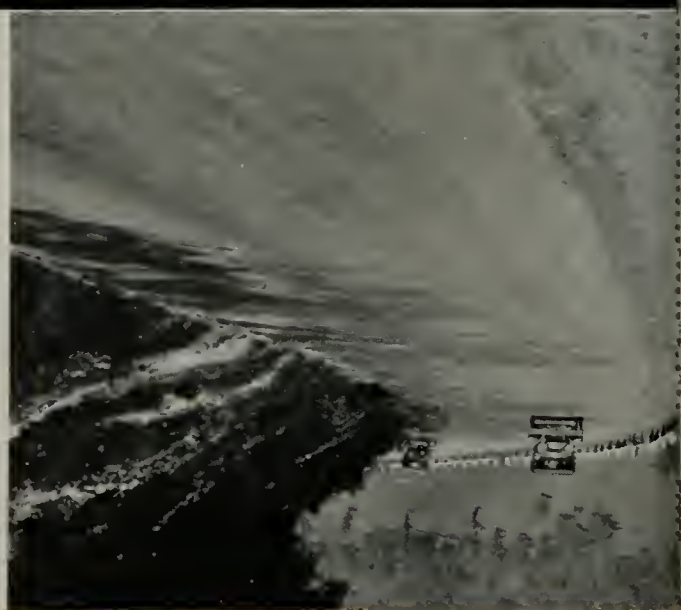

The universal, long-established preference for Kreolite by steel and all other industries is graphically revealed in the fact that there are over 100,000,000 square feet of Kreolite laid today in the factories and workshops of the nation. It is indeed "The Floor of Industrial America." Kreolite was selected after the most searching analysis—the most pitiless comparisons—because the buyer of a factory floor knows that he must live with what he buys, not for a season or a year but for many years.

Limitless durability, comfortable resilience, dustless cleanliness, quietness are Kreolite features that stand out in the experience of the innumerable factories that work on Kreolite. All Kreolite Wood Block floors are processed to resist the destructive action of termites. You, too, want these advantages. Specify Kreolite. Accept no substitute.

BETTER ROADS

STANOLIND CUT-BACK ASPHALT

STANOLIND PAVING ASPHALT
 Contains more than 99% by volume of bitumen but requires heating to a temperature of 200° to 300° F. for handling. The slight additional price for cut-back asphalt compared to paving asphalt is more than offset in many cases by the ease of handling and results secured.

STANOLIND CUT-BACK ASPHALT
 Contains approximately 75% by volume of bitumen and 25% petroleum diluent.

EMULSIFIED ASPHALT
 (Specification Grade)
 Contains approximately 55% by volume of bitumen content and 45% water, distillates, emulsifying agents and, in some cases, materials to prevent freezing. We produce but do not recommend emulsified asphalt.

● Look at the facts about Liquid Asphalt Cement! It's the bitumen content (asphalt cement) that makes the road. The diluent used in cut-back asphalt is primarily intended to simplify handling, reduce viscosity and increase its ability to bind to the aggregate as well as cement the aggregates together. The use of petroleum spirits as a diluent increases the ability of the asphalt to penetrate any dust on the surface of the roadway or the aggregate.

When you buy Stanolind Cut-back Asphalt you get a product that has been developed over a period of many years. A product that has a higher percentage of asphalt cement, which means that you need fewer gallons of Stanolind Cut-back Asphalt per mile of surfacing—that means, more miles of better roads per dollar spent.

Let your local Standard Oil representative explain the full significance of the illustration reproduced here in terms of your road fund dollars. He can also give you detailed information on prices, recommendations and specifications on types of construction best suited to the needs of your community.

● The Austin-Western "66" sets a new standard for light motor grader performance and economy. Powered by the Buda-Lanova Diesel or the International Harvester Gasoline Motor, it starts exactly like your car—no getting out for adjustments after warm up. This latest addition to the Austin-Western motor grader line is especially designed for economical highway maintenance and light construction jobs. The new exclusive "AWCO" transmission provides speeds for all motor grader jobs, assuring outstanding performance at economical engine R.P.M. In addition to the new features listed below, the "66" has standard A-W full hydraulic controls with power steer, anti-chatter blade, and correct weight distribution. These outstanding features give the "66" most of the operating advantages of a heavy duty machine at lowest cost. Find out how this "66" can outperform on your road building and maintenance jobs, winter or summer.

Y. M. C. A. RECITAL TUESDAY, APRIL 5

On Tuesday evening, April 5, there will be given in Page Auditorium the fourth concert of its second annual series of Tuesday Evening Recitals, sponsored by the University Y. M. C. A. to provide entertainment for the University community and to increase the appreciation of music.

While the detailed program has not yet been entirely arranged, it is announced that the Duke University Symphony Orchestra, directed by George Leftwich, will be one of the features of this concert. A number of selections will be rendered by musical talent from the faculty. There will be both instrumental and vocal numbers. An exceptionally attractive musical program is being arranged.

AT DUKE HOSPITAL FRIDAY

Dr. Ralph Pemberton, Associate Professor of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, and chairman of the American Committee for the Control of Rheumatism, will give a clinic in the amphitheatre of the Duke Hospital, at 11:30 a.m. Friday, April 8. "Arthritis" will be his subject.

Dr. Pemberton will address the Durham-Orange County Medical Society at 8 p.m.

FACULTY CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Faculty Club will be held on Wednesday, April 6, at 8 p.m. in Room 205, University Union. The election of officers will be held at this time. Refreshments.

KAPPA DELTA PI MEETING

On Wednesday, April 6, the Kappa Delta Pi Educational Society will hold a meeting at 8 p.m. in East Duke building on the Woman's College campus, Room 116. The speaker will be Dr. W. A. Brownell, whose subject will be, "An Experiment in Predicting Scholastic Success." The public is invited.

DEBATE THURSDAY, APRIL 7

On Thursday evening, April 7, at 8:15, in Room 205 of the University Union, a debate will be held between teams representing Duke University and Georgia Tech. Duke will uphold the negative side of the question: "Resolved, That the War Debts Should Be Cancelled." The University community and the public are invited.

NICHOLAS R. BREWER EXHIBIT

An exhibition of portraits, landscapes, and figure pieces by Nicholas Richard Brewer will open in the Gallery of the Woman's College Library on Thursday evening, April 7, at 8 p.m., with a reception for the artist given by the Duke University Art Association.

Mr. Brewer has had many notable sitters. Some thirty years ago he painted several portraits of Joseph Jefferson in the character of Rip Van Winkle; more recently it was his privilege to paint the statesman-musician, Ignace Paderewski, shortly after the latter's return from Poland.

Born in 1857, Nicholas Brewer first exhibited at the National Academy of Design in New York in 1885. In 1891 he was elected to membership in the Society of Artists in Chicago, where his studio is now located, and a few years later to the Salamagundi Club in New York. He has been the recipient of many awards and prizes during the course of his interesting professional career, and has painted in all but four of the United States.

Mr. Brewer is an artist who has done much to increase interest in art throughout the country. While he is what might be termed a conservative painter, he recognizes the best in current production, and is keenly conscious of the social and political movements of the time. During the course of his exhibition, the artist will spend many hours in the Gallery. Members of the University community may count themselves fortunate in having this opportunity of meeting a gifted painter and a charming gentleman.

DR. HOWARD BEMENT WILL SPEAK

Dr. Howard Bement, head of the widely known Asheville School for Boys, of Asheville, N. C., will be a Duke visitor for the week-end and will speak several times while here. On Saturday, April 9, at 11:40 a.m. he will speak in Page Auditorium; at 9:45 Sunday morning, April 10, he will address the Sunday School Class in York Chapel; at 4 p.m. Sunday he will deliver the address at the University vespers in York Chapel, and on Monday morning at 11:40 he will deliver his final address in Page Auditorium.

The University community and the public are cordially invited to hear Dr. Bement, who is one of the foremost educators in the country. A special invitation has been extended the public school teachers of the city and county to hear him Saturday morning, when he speaks at 11:40 in Page Auditorium to students and the public.

Dr. Bement, a native of Michigan, who has been for the past several years in charge of the Asheville School for Boys, one of the outstanding institutions of its type in America, is nationally prominent as an educator, writer and speaker. For a number of years he was master in English, and later head of the department, in the Hill School in Pennsylvania; he was reader in English for the College Entrance Examination Board from 1913 to 1923. Among his books in the field of education are "Notes and Outlines on Books Required for Study in English in Preparation for College," and "Old Man Davis Talks to College Men." He has edited the selected Essays of Lamb, Burke's Speech on Conciliation, and the Sir Roger de Coverley Papers, besides being a contributor to various magazines.

While here, Dr. Bement will be the guest of President and Mrs. W. P. Few.

UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY TEA

The University Community Tea will be held in the Woman's College Union on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. A. M. Webb is chairman of the social committee.

SIGMA XI LECTURE

The Sigma Xi Club of Duke University will sponsor a public lecture on Friday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the lecture room of the Biology building. At that time Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch will discuss "The Rôle of Copper in the Development and Distribution of the Oyster." The lecture will be illustrated.

Dr. Prytherch is director of the United States Bureau of Fisheries Biological Laboratory at Beaufort, N. C. He has been studying the scientific and practical aspects of oyster development and culture for the Fisheries Bureau of the Federal Government for a number of years. His lecture covers some of his most recent investigations.

LECTURE ON "CANCER"

On Friday evening, April 15, at 8 o'clock, in the Duke Hospital Amphitheatre, Dr. Warren H. Lewis, of the department of embryology, Carnegie Institution of Washington, will lecture on "Cancer." His lecture will be illustrated with motion pictures of normal and malignant cells.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES

The request is made that members of the Duke University administration and faculty list with the office of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs, Room 103 University Union, any engagements made by them for commencement addresses. This will be of considerable assistance to the department in connection with its efforts to secure commencement speakers for colleges and high schools requesting commencement addresses by Duke University men. Compliance with this request will be greatly appreciated.

THE ART EXHIBIT

The exhibition of portraits, landscapes, and figure pieces by Nicholas Richard Brewer, which opened in the Woman's College Library on Thursday evening, April 7, is already attracting much attention. It will continue for two weeks. Many art lovers from various parts of the state are expected to come here to see the exhibit.

Mr. Brewer has been for many years an artist of great prominence. He has been the recipient of many awards and prizes, and has painted in all but four of the United States. During the course of his exhibition he will spend much time in the Gallery.

Miss Gay Johnson, of Laurel, Mississippi, Queen of May, will head the Court, with Miss Mary Langston, of Goldsboro, as Maid of Honor.

FINAL TESTS HERE MAY 7

The twelve winners of the sectional tests in connection with the Culver Military Academy scholarship for North Carolina will come to Duke University Saturday, May 7, for the final examinations. On the basis of these final tests one of the twelve contestants will receive a $6,000 scholarship covering all expenses at the widely known Indiana preparatory school.

Scholarships are being awarded this year in four states—Indiana, Missouri, Pennsylvania and North Carolina. In this state 133 high school juniors have taken the tests this year.

When the twelve winners come to Duke on May 7 they will have breakfast and luncheon in the University Union. During the morning they will make a tour of the campus after which the final mental and physical tests will be given.

Dr. W. A. Brownell, of the Duke Department of Education, is a member of the scholarship committee for North Carolina.

MATHEMATICS LECTURE

On Thursday, May 12, Robert Lee Moore, Professor of Pure Mathematics in the University of Texas and Visiting Lecturer of the American Mathematical Society, will be here. He will deliver a lecture entitled "Foundations of Point Set Theory." Further details will be given in the Calendar for next week.

MAY DAY AND ALUMNAE HOME-COMING

An outstanding feature of the spring calendar of the University is the May Day and Alumnae Home-Coming program on Saturday, May 7.

Beginning the day at 10:30 when the Alumnae Council will meet in the Alumnae Room on the East Campus, the day will be filled with interesting events. At 3:30 p.m. there will be a tea in the Alumnae Room, followed at 5 p.m. by the May Day Pageant on Hanes Field. This will be presented by a cast from the Woman's College, directed by Mrs. Vivian Moize Chatneuff and Miss Kathryn Jacobs. At 6 p.m. the Tea Gardens will be open on the East Campus lawn, and at 8 p. m. the Duke Players will present "Craig's Wife," as stated elsewhere in the Calendar.

Miss Gay Johnston, of Laurel, Mississippi, Queen of May, will head the Court, with Miss Mary Langston, of Goldsboro, as maid of honor.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL GAME

The sports feature on Saturday, May 7, will be the baseball game on the Duke field between the Duke freshman and the Oak Ridge team. The game will begin at 3:15 p.m.

"CRAIG'S WIFE" BY DUKE PLAYERS

"Craig's Wife," George Kelley's Pulitzer Prize winner of 1928, will be presented by the Duke Players in Page Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, May 7. This will be the closing feature of the May Day and Alumnae Home-Coming exercises and incidentally it will be the last play of the year for the Duke Players. Mr. A. T. West and Miss Margaret Bledsoe will have the leading character roles in the production.

Admission, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00.

UNIVERSITY BAND, MAY 8

An interesting event on Sunday, May 8, will be the rendering of a program by the University Band, directed by George E. Leftwich, Jr. It will be given on the Woman's College Campus. In case of rain, the concert will be in Page Auditorium.

On account of the fact that the concert comes on Mother's Day, special attention has been given in the arrangement of the program to music especially appropriate for the day. Also an interesting part of the program will be the featuring of music by the late John Phillip Sousa, internationally known composer and conductor. The complete program follows:

Washington Post March.....John Phillip Sousa
Religious FantasiaDalbey
Bells of St. Mary'sAdams

Hungarian DanceBrahms
Pilgrim's Song of HopeBatiste
National Emblem MarchBagley

CLINIC AT DUKE HOSPITAL

Dr. Hugh H. Trout, of Roanoke, will give a clinic at the Duke Hospital on Tuesday, May 10, at 11:30 a.m. The clinic will deal with "Release of Pericardial Adhesions," and will be illustrated with moving pictures.

Dr. Trout is head of the Jefferson Hospital at Roanoke.

"FLYING RINGS"

Thirty gymnasts under the direction of "Cap" W. W. Card, director of the Men's Gymnasium, will perform in the gymnasium Tuesday evening at 7:30. Gymnastic stunts will be performed, ranging from the simplest movements to the giant swing. A feature of the exhibition will be the work of Harry Fishel, who will perform on all gymnasium apparatus.

Events included are spring board tumbling, pyramid building, stunts on the horse and parallel bars, and on the low and high horizontal bars, the strong man's race, and a feature event on the flying rings.

TUESDAY EVENING RECITAL

The Y. M. C. A. presents the sixth Tuesday Evening Recital on Tuesday evening, May 10, at 8:15 in Page Auditorium. The Orchesis Club of the North Carolina College for Women, consisting of thirty-five girls, will give a dance drama under the direction of Miss Minna M. Lauter, of the Physical Education Department.

The presentation of the dance drama is an annual affair at N. C. C. W., and will be given there on Saturday evening, May 7. Those who saw the Duncan Dancers here three years ago will be interested to know that this dance drama will be somewhat similar to their program.

There will be no admission charge.

DUKE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY TEA

The Duke University Community Tea will be given on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the form of a Garden Party on the lawn of the Woman's College campus.

If the weather is inclement the tea will be in the Woman's College Union.

PHI BETA KAPPA BUSINESS MEETING

There will be a business meeting of Phi Beta Kappa Society on Wednesday, May 11, at 3 p.m. for election of officers. The meeting will be held in Room 106, School of Religion building.

MATHEMATICS LECTURE

On Thursday, May 12, at 4 p.m. in Room 210, School of Religion, Mr. Robert Lee Moore, professor of pure mathematics in the University of Texas and visiting lecturer of the American Mathematical Society, will deliver a public lecture on "Foundations of Point Set Theory." An informal dinner in his honor will be given at 6:30 in the Men's Union. Acceptances for the dinner should reach Professor W. W. Elliott not later than Wednesday noon.

BISHOP FISHER TO SPEAK AT DUKE

Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, for eight years bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church and at present the pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ann Arbor, Michigan, just off the University of Michigan campus and known as the students' church, will be the speaker at University Vespers in Page Auditorium on Sunday, May 15. He will speak again on the morning of Monday, May 16.

At one time Bishop Fisher was Secretary of Foreign Missions for the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for the Laymen's Missionary Movement. He was elected bishop in 1920 and gave up the work in 1928 to accept the pastorate of the Ann Arbor church. He is one of the most widely known pulpit orators in the United States. He never fails to make a strong appeal to university audiences.

NOTED ENGLISH PREACHER HERE MAY 16 AND 17

Canon William Thompson Elliott, Vicar of Leeds, England, and one of the best known clergymen in the Established Church of England, will deliver two addresses at Duke University on the evenings of Monday, May 16, and Tuesday, May 17. The addresses will be delivered in Page Auditorium, and the University community and the public are invited to attend.

Canon Elliott will speak on Monday, May 16, on the subject, "The Inner Meaning of the Present Crisis," and on Tuesday evening his subject will be "Democracy and Disintegration."

The rural deanery of Leeds, over which Canon Elliott presides, is the largest in the world. In fact, there is a greater population in the territory over which he has spiritual jurisdiction than in many bishoprics. He was formerly Canon and Sub-dean of Liverpool, Hon. Canon of Peterborough, Rural Dean of Leicester, Canon-Chancellor of the Collegiate Church of St. Martin's, and vicar of parishes in Bradford and Leicester.

Canon Elliott has been for years prominently identified with Rotary International, being a member of the Board of Directors of Rotary International of the British Isles in 1922 and President in 1924-25. He is exceedingly popular as a preacher and lecturer not only in Great Britain but in the United States as well.

SPORTS PROGRAM FOR WEEK

Wednesday, 3:15—Varsity baseball, Duke-Wake Forest.

Thursday, 3:15—Freshman baseball, Duke-Carolina.

Friday, 3:15—Varsity baseball, Duke-V. P. I.

Saturday, 3:15—Varsity baseball, Duke-Carolina.

EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS

Another of the series of art exhibitions by the Duke University Art Association will begin Saturday, May 7, at 8:30 p.m., in the Library on the Woman's College Campus, and will continue throughout the following week.

The exhibition will include oil paintings and water colors by G. Thompson Pritchard, noted artist whose work has attracted much enthusiastic comment in this and other countries.

Born in New Zealand, Mr. Pritchard studied at the Elam School of Art and the Academy of Art, Auckland, N. Z.; Academy of Fine Arts, Melbourne; South Kensington School of Art, London, and Julien's Academy of Paris; and under the late Sir Alfred East, R.A. London, and Vander Heldt, Amsterdam. "Whether the scene he is painting be landscape or marine, the crowded docks of London or the cosmopolitan streets of the Orient, the snows of Canada, or the sunshine of Samoa, there is an easy naturalness in all his work, and there is feeling and atmosphere," says the New York World, in commenting on Mr. Pritchard's art.

FINAL OPEN FORUM MEETING

Leader: Dr. Elbert Russell.

Problem: The Planes of Mating in Marriage.

Place: Room 209, School of Religion building.

Time: Monday, May 16, at 7:00 p.m. sharp.

Note: Due to the fact that Canon William Thompson Elliott, Vicar of Leeds, England, will speak at Page Auditorium on the same night at 7:45, the Open Forum meeting must start exactly at 7:00 o'clock. All are invited.

BISHOP FISHER TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, for eight years bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church and at present pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, will be the speaker at University vespers on Sunday at 4 o'clock in York Chapel. He will speak again on Monday morning.

Dr. Fisher is one of the most widely known pulpit orators in the United States. The University community and public are cordially invited to hear him.

CANON ELLIOTT AT DUKE, MAY 16 AND 17

Canon William Thompson Elliott, of Leeds, England, widely known both in Great Britain and the United States as preacher, writer and lecturer, will deliver two addresses at Duke University on May 16 and 17. Both addresses will be in Page Auditorium at 7:45 p.m. and the University community and the public are cordially invited.

Canon Elliott's subject on Monday evening, May 16, will be "The Inner Meaning of the Present Crisis." On Tuesday, May 17, he will discuss "Democracy and Disintegration."

The visiting speaker, who is a past president of Rotary International of the British Isles, will speak at the meeting of the Durham Rotary Club on Monday, May 16, at 1 p.m.

Canon Elliott is regarded as one of the most forceful and interesting of the British speakers who have visited America in recent years. He will doubtless be heard by many visitors from other parts of the state during his stay at Duke, as well as by the University community and citizens of Durham.

"THE PRINCE OF PILSEN"

On Friday evening, May 20, at 8:15, in Page Auditorium, the combined Musical Clubs of Duke University will present the musical comedy "The Prince of Pilsen," by Gustav Luders. Many of the older members of the community will remember that about twenty years ago "The Prince of Pilsen" was one of the most popular musical comedies ever produced up to that time. The melodies are beautiful, and the numerous situations are most comical.

In the local production there will be more than eighty persons on the stage and about twenty in the orchestra. Practically every member of the cast will change costumes about four times each; thus the production will be most colorful.

Those in charge of the show feel that it will be the most enjoyable musical production ever presented on the Duke campus. Tickets are 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00, and may be secured from any member of the cast, or in the Union Lobby during lunch hour on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
